Technique: the brick stitch

Procedure:

Step 1
Cut off about 1.5 m of line. Thread the line into the eye of the needle. The line slides very easily. Tie it to the eye of the needle using a simple knot. Occasionally retighten the knot.

Step 2
String 14x R. Use the ladder chain stitch to thread the line through every strung R again. Thread the line through the 1st R. Tie off the line with three knots. This will create a circle of R.

Step 3
Thread the line through the R next to the knot. Now start sewing using the brick stitch. Attach the new R to the visible line between the R from the previous row. String 1x R, pass the needle under the line and thread it through the R again.

Step 4
The beginning of every row. String 2x R. Pass the needle under the line in the second gap. Thread the line through the 2nd strung R again.

Step 5
Continue stringing 1x R until the end of the row. Thread the needle under the line and then thread it through the R again.

Step 6
The end of the row. Thread the line through the 1st R from Step 4. Thread the needle under the line in the 1st gap at the start of the row. Thread the line through the R one more time. Tighten it. The R may resist slightly.

Step 7
Sew a total of 34 rows (including the ring from the 2nd row) according to the pattern of the R colours. You will need another 1.5 m of line. Sew the first line into the already sewn section. Thread the new line through several R in the sewn section. Create a loop of line around the line between the R. Thread it through twice. Tighten and thread the line through to the edge of the sewn section. Continue sewing.
